THE NEVADA RECLAMATION BILL.

The proposition made by our representatives in Congress to give to Nevada all the lands within her boundaries, not otherwise appropriated, that she may devote the proceeds of their sales to her reclamation, will, if passed, be the most important act of the General Government for Nevada's welfare ever enacted. There is no plan yet proposed for our internal improvement, that quite meets with such general approval as this, as it places in our own hands, the financial sinews requisite for such a vast undertaking, who, of all people should be best able to judge and minister to our needs.

There is no question that if the bill is passed Nevada will fail to prove but honest and honorable to the trust. That we are a people loyal to the principles of integrity and virtue, goes without fear of contradiction, save by a Democratic platform. That we are not unfit for so great a confidence, in other words, not a "Rotten Burroughs," will be decided on the 4th day of next November, when the people of Nevada repudiate that declaration in the defeat of those who acknowledged to it.

What would be the effect of a general endorsement of such charge of dishonesty through the election of the party who made it? The effect will be that the bill to grant to Nevada the land within her boundaries, for her internal improvement will never be passed. A people who would themselves acknowledge to a charge of dishonesty and corruption, would not be considered by the Government a safe people to intrust with the control of such a gigantic covenant, where so many opportunities are open for despoliation as this bill.

NEVADA AND UTAH.

The San Francisco Bulletin contains a lengthy editorial upon a union of Nevada with Utah. In advocacy of the scheme it comments upon the similarity of the physical conditions of the two commonwealths and thinks that a union would tend to the advancement of both.

However favorably the people of other sections may look upon such a union, the people of Nevada will never entertain for a moment the idea of being tacked upon any other territory. They recognize the fact that with Nevada's 50,000 people, she would be at the mercy of any larger commonwealth with which she might be joined.

Nevada has all the resources that Utah has. The difference lies in the fact that one is to a large degree cultivated, while the other lies in its pristine nakedness. It is not more territory nor a union with another State or Territory that will solve Nevada's requirements. It is a systematic and intelligent reclamation of what territory she has. The Bulletin, however, acknowledges this fact by saying:

"But even if such a union is not effected there will still remain to Nevada the prospect of a new career of growth. Her mineral resources are not exhausted, while her agricultural resources have hardly begun to be developed. The same system that has made Utah agriculturally prosperous will do great things for Nevada. If good and permanent growth cannot be found upon gold and silver mines, it will remain to demonstrate anew that permanent prosperity can be founded on a system of agriculture which brings under cultivation every available acre in the State."

TARIFF VS. FREE TRADE.

The Washington National View says. Hon. John P. Jones, of Nevada, delivered a speech in the Senate of the United States on September 10, 1890, on the revenue bill, which was published in the Congressional Record of October 7, 1890.

We begin the publication of this great speech in this issue of the National View, and will continue it each week until it is concluded.

We now say that his tariff speech is the ablest speech ever made on that subject, and ask the editors of our exchanges to give this unanswerable address a careful reading.

Those who are Americans in principle will stand by Senator Jones and sustain him on the tariff question as they have on the financial question.

John P. Jones stands at the head of the list as the most profound thinker and ablest speaker in the United States on all economic questions that interest the wealth-producers of America.

An exchange says an Arizona editor placed a ballot-box at his office and called upon the people to decide by popular vote who was the most infamously liar in the camp. The ballots were counted in the presence of a great crowd and the editor was elected by a majority that paralyzed him. This set him to thinking real hard.

A wild report circulated in Washington the other day, that Grover Cleveland had dropped dead, required the ex-President to make a personal denial to the reporters and friends who rushed to the hotel where his demise was said to have occurred.

The funeral of Mrs. Andrew Toft, who died in Truckee Thursday, will take place to-day at 2 p. m. from the Catholic Church.

WAGES IN GERMANY.

[Senator Frye in Europe.]

I went first into Munich. And on the first voyage of discovery I made I saw a number of women, with an awkward looking way and a singular looking black for the wood to rest on, sawing wood in the streets of Munich, and carrying it on their backs into the stores. I had seen women doing almost everything in Italy and Belgium, but I had not seen them doing anything like that, and it struck me as remarkable. And, by the way, the women bear the burden in Europe everywhere. I, having a curiosity to know about that business went and hunted up an interpreter. Said I: "I want you to go with me out on the streets. I wish to know about this business that is going on out here. Why, I saw women sawing wood!" "Oh, nonsense! that don't amount to anything." "But," said I, "I wish to know about it. Go with me." He went with me. "Now," said I, "you ask that woman" (she was about fifty years of age, stout, healthy-looking) "sawing this wood, cord wood, into about three sticks each, ask that woman what she gets a day." He asked her. She said she got—she didn't say fifteen cents, of course, but translated into English, it was fifteen cents a day; but that she could not work all day, because she had to go home and see to the children; she could make twenty cents a day if she could work all day. I said to him, "Ask her, in Heaven's name, how many children she has, and how she takes care of them." She said she had six. "How does she take care of them with fifteen cents a day?" "Oh," she said, "I get the first washings of the restaurant," pointing to a hotel, "for ten cents a day, and that feeds them." Does the Free Trader in Massachusetts want his women to work ten hours a day, take care of six children, and buy of a restaurant the first washings to feed her children with?

I saw a very intelligent man in Germany, who had studied the subject of wages there, and I asked him if he would talk with me. He said he would. Said he, "I will talk with you freely. I know what you desire, and I wish to tell you that work is not in a fair condition to-day in Germany, although you see they are building mills everywhere." Said I, "I do, and they look prosperous." "Well," said he, "manufacturing is not so good as it might be, even in Germany. There are some manufacturers in Germany without souls, and they are actually hiring men and women to-day for anything they have a mind to pay them. They are paying in one factory I know of, women twenty cents a day for their work, while the average they pay men in Germany is not over fifty cents a day."

A Violent Storm.

New York, Oct. 24.—New York was pelted last night and to-day with one of the most pitiless storms which it has endured in many days. A fierce north-easterly gale drove a heavy rain in almost horizontal sheets, rendering umbrellas of little use, and the wind throughout the night rattled signs and sent up till unbroken sleep became well nigh impossible.

This morning storms of damage along the coast began to come in, but it is feared the worst will not be known until tomorrow. Along the New Jersey coast the wind was reported down and several vessels are ashore, while others have been driven from their courses. A very high tide resulted from the storm. Several small boats were capsized off Long Branch, but the occupants were rescued.

The marine wires that are strung between this city and Sandy Hook parted a midnight, and to-day the members of the Marine Exchange had to depend upon a single wire from the quarantine station at Staten Island.

The storm did considerable damage in Brooklyn. A four-story building in course of construction on Halsey street was blown down, and John Lindsay, a passer-by, was buried in the ruins. His injuries are thought to be fatal.

Where is Nevada's?

WASHINGTON, October 22.—To-day the Secretary of the Interior signed certificates for the amount of $15,000, each appropriated under an act of Congress approved August 30, 1890, for the present year in aid of agricultural and mechanical colleges, to the following States: Indiana, Kansas, Ohio, New Jersey, Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Delaware, Mississippi, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Colorado, Illinois, Maryland, Minnesota, Oregon, Wisconsin, New Hampshire, Alabama, Idaho, North Dakota and the Territory of New Mexico.

Severe Storms in New England.

An unusually severe storm prevailed Monday throughout New England and along the coast. In Fall River, Mass., the streets were flooded and many trees were blown down. No marine disasters are reported yet. The storm was very severe in Boston, rain falling almost incessantly. Along the north shore the storm was the most severe in two years, and waves rushed in with terrific force, bringing in wreckage of every description.

The Record Broken.

At Cambridge, Ind., the stallion Nelson, Thursday, trotted the fastest half-mile on record. The first quarter was made in :32 1/2 and the second in :30 1/2, the fastest quarter on record, making the half-mile in 1:03 or at the rate of a mile in 2:06.

Struck and Burned by Lightning.

Living in the southern part of Columbia county, at a small place called Fly City, resides the family of John Vosburgh. Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Vosburgh, with their 4-year-old child, retired at 9 o'clock. An infant occupied the crib near the bed. This is the last they remember until more than an hour afterward, when upon returning to consciousness it was seen that the clock had stopped at five minutes past 9, and it is assumed that electricity entered the dwelling at that time.

Mr. Vosburgh first became conscious and endeavored to get up, but was unable to do so. In a few minutes he tried again and took hold of the child, finding it apparently lifeless. In the meantime Mrs. Vosburgh had partly recovered, and finding the room in a stifling condition crawled to the window and opened it, and then returned to her husband and child. Mr. Vosburgh gained sufficient strength to assist, and they carried the child into the open air and brought it to consciousness. Neighbors were called, and by that time Mrs. Vosburgh had become exhausted.

Mr. Vosburgh's night shirt was torn entirely down the back. The bed was wrecked. A large hole was burned in a feather bed, one of the bolts in the bedstead had disappeared and has not been found. The child has a sore on the arm extending from the wrist to the elbow, having the appearance of being burned, with a festering sore in the center. A hairpin holding Mrs. Vosburgh's hair has the appearance of being melted. The infant in the crib was not disturbed in any manner. There is no other evidence of the appearance of electricity in any part of the house.

It is a case that baffles all theories, and the work that did it is as unusual as it is mysterious. The father and child have practically recovered, but the mother is still prostrated.—Hudson (N. Y.) Register.

Sam Jones Makes a Thousand Converts. The greatest meeting that has ever been held in Richmond, and probably in the country, was the one conducted by the Rev. Sam Jones. It was for men only.

The Tabernacle seats 11,000 persons. Every seat was taken, and not less than 1,000 stood up. On the outside of the structure were probably 1,000 more, and hundreds went away when they found they could not get seats. Not less than 14,000 or 15,000 men came to hear the preacher.

The sermon had a powerful effect upon the congregation. At its close Mr. Jones asked all who would promise to live better lives and give up sinful habits to stand up. Not less than 10,000 men arose. It was a sight never seen before. The preacher then asked all who were not church members and who wanted to become Christians to come up and shake his hand. Hundreds pressed forward with tears in their eyes. Not nearly all could get to the preacher, as the crowd was so dense. It is estimated that not less than 1,000 persons were converted, among them many solid and substantial business men. Some of them were people who had not before heard Mr. Jones, and who had ridiculed his style of preaching.—Cor. Norfolk Virginian.

Gold Lace and Fiddlers. Emperor William has issued new regulations respecting the wearing of German naval uniforms which arose minute and elaborate that they fill a book of forty pages. Any admiral who marries is in future to go through the ceremony arrayed in his full uniform. Admirals are only to wear plain clothes at the seaside or at baths, when on shooting, at masked balls, or when on half pay. If they happen to be in Berlin on a Sunday the cooked hat must be worn when walking about the city till 4 o'clock in the afternoon. When an admiral is at sea he may wear an old-fashioned sou'wester and coat only if the weather is stormy, and his shirt front must always be perfectly plain. It is further strictly forbidden to have the corners of the collar turned down or doubled back, and there are peremptory rules about gold lace and other fiddle faddle appendages.—London Truth.

An Old Soldier. A conspicuous figure in the procession at the unveiling of the Lee monument, at Richmond, was the venerable Professor F. N. Crouch, the composer of "Kathleen Mavourneen." He is perhaps nearer 90 than 80 years of age, yet hale and hearty. He was arrayed in full uniform of Confederate gray, having come on from Baltimore to meet probably for the last time his soldier comrades of the old First Howitzer. His comrades say that no braver soldier ever fought with the artillery of the army of northern Virginia.—Exchange.

While exercising a horse at Fort Collins, Colo., the animal became enraged and attempted to bite its leader. The trainer succeeded in preventing the furious beast from injuring him until the halter broke, when the animal picked him up by the shoulder and threw him to the ground with great violence. Then burying his teeth in the flesh of the prostrate man the brute trampled upon him. The trainer's chest was crushed, three ribs were broken and the flesh on all parts of his body was bruised and crushed.

The present year is the tercentenary of the discovery of the microscope, which in its crude form was due to Jansen, a spectacle maker of Middleburg, Holland. The occasion is to be celebrated by an international microscopic exhibition, which is to be shortly held at Antwerp, when an endeavor will be made to bring together a collection of instruments which will fairly show the progress of the microscope from its simple original form to that of the present day.

Hiram Lukens went to work on The Doylestown (Pa.) Intelligencer in June, 1838, as printer's devil and has been continuously employed on that paper ever since, celebrating his fifty-eighth anniversary in the office on June 21. He is a compositor and works every day at his trade.

THE FRISKY DRUMMER.
He is the Cause of the Decadence in American Newspaper Humor.

Dan de Quille thinks that the decadence of American newspaper humor is due to the fact that the best humorists are employed as drummers. "It is claimed," says the wizard "that there are no more Mark Twains, John Penixes, Artemus Wards, Bret Harte's and other men of that stamp. I say there are more than ever before, and probably brighter men—but they are not on the daily press. They sail round now under the name of drummers. They speak off-hand that which used to be written. When written certain proprieties and certain situations had to be reserved, which very much detracted from the description; now the witty drummer, with the aid of his arms, shoulders, face and voice, presents not only a pen picture, but a scene, and there are no ears near to take offense. Mark Twain, the drummer, could get five times more wages from a San Francisco whisky firm than Mark Twain, the reporter, ever received from The Enterprise, and that is the reason why newspaper wits are scarce."

THE RAILROAD EXTENSION.

The Susanville Advocate remarks:

Every item of news connected with the building of the N. O. railroad into Lassen county is of peculiar interest to our readers at home and abroad. Time and again men representing large capital have visited Honey Lake valley; have admired its wonderful resources, its richness of soil, its abundance of water supply, its immense tracts of timber land, and have gone away enthusiastic as to the future of our county, but their enthusiasm has resulted in nothing tangible as yet, simply because we had no outlet, no communication with the outside world.

We must have a railroad before capital can be induced to take hold of the country and open it up, and every ten miles added to the present line of road is bringing it just so much nearer to the fruitful part of the valley. Every ten miles built brings us just so much nearer the great market of the world and makes the advent of capital among us so much surer. The narrow gauge is now finished five miles out from Susanville. A much larger force of men has been put on during the past week or two, and in three weeks time the road will be completed to Brubeek's, where a new depot is now being erected. No doubt a new mail route will be inaugurated from Brubeek's up the east side of the valley to Susanville, which will bring us within thirty miles of the road, and insure us daily mails all through the winter no matter how severe the storms may be. This in itself is a great comfort to our business men. Business has already begun to feel the magic influence of the extension of the road in that section of the valley.

The Honey Lake Water Co. have had several hundred miles of ditches laid out on their property east and north of Liegan station. They have 40 men and a large number of teams employed. They are about to build a good hotel and stables at Liegan and make that station the railway point for their enterprise. All this brings money into circulation among us, and every dollar invested in such enterprises induces more to come in. The advent of the railroad up as far as Belfast would undon it to be the signal for large operations in lumber all through this section. Fumes can be built from several directions connecting with the railroad at that point, and Susanville would rapidly become the center of the lumbering interest.

The people of Reno, Long Valley, of Honey Lake and of Susanville, should be hand in hand in their support of the railroad. It may not be imagined to suit everybody. Almost every American citizen thinks he knows more about running a railroad, a newspaper, a theater or a county fair, than the men in charge; that is one of the pardonable sins born of our free and glorious institutions, but so long as the railroad company shows a disposition to add more miles to their line; so long as they are bringing men and money to our country, and are making it possible for men of capital to invest among us, let us aid and assist them; let us all go in with a will and encourage them to still greater efforts in this direction. Every railroad company wants the moral support of the country through which it passes; it wants to feel that it is going in good friends, instead of enemies and that the relation between the company and its customers will be such as to produce the greatest amount of prosperity to both.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

There Will be no Trouble About Money.

The local World's Fair Directors are unanimous in promoting the lake front, and the national commissioners have no objection to offer, provided the money for piling and filling the acreage is not taken out of the $10,000,000 guaranty pledged to the Government for exposition purposes.

President Palmer in speaking of it said: "There is no reason why the exposition company should not improve that portion of the site and begin at once. I believe they intend to make only about sixty acres and that the money to do it will be raised apart from the $10,000,000 guaranty. Of course no part of that sum could be touched for filling in the submerged land of the basin, but here we have a special committee of the directors, that on Ways and Means, which comes forward and guarantees $800,000 for the purpose, an amount in excess of the actual cost of the work. I hope they will go right ahead and meet with complete success."

Speaking of the letter of Secretary Windom deprecating the high salaries and expensive administration of the commission, President Palmer said: "There is no reason for any anxiety on the score of money. We shall get along all right, and that, too, without going to Congress for a dollar of special appropriation. This matter of paying the lady managers is a delicate one and requires a little management; but it will come out all right. The ladies will meet at least once during the next session of the commission. We have appointed Commissioners Harris and Butt a special committee to wait upon Secretary Windom and properly present the matter."

Commissioner McDonald, speaking of the dilemma in which the want of money for their transportation and subsistence would place the lady managers, remarked: "Well, these women are going to meet, even if we cut short our own sessions to enable them to do it."

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures drowsiness and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-ly

Adventures of Three French Aeronauts:

Three aeronauts, MM. Valles, Lelice and Truelle, have just met with an exciting adventure which very nearly had a fatal termination. They left the gasworks at Laviettes at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon in their balloon Mozart, intending after a brief ascent, to return again to the ground just outside the fortifications. When they had reached an altitude of 3,000 yards a hurricane came on, which drove the balloon furiously to the northeast. For two hours the aeronauts had a dreadful time. The wind swayed the car violently and the occupants were obliged to squat down and cling to the edge of the basket to avoid being thrown out.

They expected to be in Paris in time for dinner, but instead they found themselves after dark above the village of Bonreux, 150 miles from the capital. Then they resolved to land at all risks. An anchor was thrown out but it broke loose. The wind pressure drove out the gas and the air-ship burst. Rapidly she fell down through the clouds and finally struck the earth with terrific force, then rebounded suddenly and threw out Lelice, who struck the telegraph wires in his descent to the ground. He was rendered insensible by the shock. His companions were also thrown out and fell a distance of fifteen feet. Lelice, whose collision with a telegraph wire broke the force of his fall, was the least injured of the trio, and when he recovered consciousness he looked about and eventually discovered his friends, being directed to them by their groans. The balloon and car are damaged beyond all hope of repair.

"THE KING'S TOUCH."

In England, two centuries ago popular superstition credited the "Royal Touch" with curing scrofula. These superstitious practices have now become obsolete, and in their place we have a scientific remedy in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which eliminates the impurities from the blood by the natural channels, thereby cleansing the system from all taints and impurities from whatever cause arising, or blood purifier, it is a royal remedy, well famed, and the only liver, lung and blood remedy guaranteed to benefit or cure in every case, or money paid for it will be refunded. As a regulator of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, "Golden Medical Discovery" cures all bilious attacks, indigestion and dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhea and kindred ailments. As an alterative, or blood purifier, it cures all skin diseases, properties in the cure of the worst Skin and Scalp Diseases, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, and Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, as well as Lung-scrofula, commonly known as Pulmonary Consumption, if taken in time and given a fair trial. "World's Dispensary" and "Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y."

MISCELLANEOUS.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me no good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." George A. Page, Watertown, Mass.
